1. What is the SI unit of electric charge?
2. Define electric potential.
3. State Gauss's law in electrostatics?
4. Define magnetic field intensity (H)
5. What is Faraday's law of electromagnetic induction?
6. Explain Lenz's law.
7. What is the difference between electric potential and electric potential energy?
8. Define capacitance.
9. Explain the concept of magnetic permeability.
10. State the principle of superposition in the context of electric field.

Ans: —

1. The SI unit of electric charge is 'Coulomb'.

2. Electric potential is defined as the amount of energy needed to move a unit positive charge from one location to another in an electric field without accelerating.

$$v = \frac{w}{q}$$

3. Gauss's law states that the total electric flux through any closed is equal to  $1/\epsilon_0$  times the total electric charge in closed within that surface.

✓ mathematically
$$\phi = \frac{q}{\epsilon_0}$$

4. magnetic field intensity ( $H$ ) is defined as the force experienced by the unit north pole that point. It is ~~also~~ also known as magnetic field strength. The SI unit of ( $H$ ) is Ampere/meter (A/m).

5. Faraday's law describes the magnitude of the electromotive force (emf), or voltage. Induced (generated) in a conductor due to electromagnetic induction (changing magnetic field).

✓ It states the induced in a conducting circuit is proportional to the rate of change of magnetic flux linkage  $\phi$  with in circuit.

6. Lenz's law states that when a changing magnetic field induce an electric current in a conductor the current will flow in a direction that opposes the change in the magnetic field.

✓ The law was deduced in 1834 by Russian physicist Heinrich Friedrich Emil Lenz.

Electric Potential (V)

Electric potential at a point in an electric field is the amount of work done in moving a unit positive test charge from infinity to that point against the electrostatic force.

$$V = \frac{1}{4\pi\epsilon_0} \frac{q}{r}$$

Electric Potential Energy (V)

Electric potential energy of a system of charge is the amount of work done in moving these charges from infinity to their respective positions.

$$U = \frac{1}{4\pi\epsilon_0} \frac{q_1 q_2}{r}$$

8. The capacitance (C) of a capacitor is defined as the ratio of the magnitude of the charge on their conductors to the potential difference between the conductors.

$$C = \frac{Q}{\Delta V}$$

⇒ SI unit is farad (F)

9. magnetic permeability is a material's ability to allow or resist magnetic flux or magnetic field lines, to pass through it -

→ It also measured of how much a material becomes magnetized in response to an applied magnetic field.

10. The principle of superposition states that the electric field produced by a charge at a point in space is independent of the presence of other charges in the medium. The resulting electric field is the vector sum of the electric fields due to the individual charges.
